EDUBOSTON
ELITE MANAGED CARE PROGRAM
Home Away From Home Where Dreams Are Realized
EduBoston’s Elite Managed Care Program (EMC) is a full-service residential program designed to meet the unique academic and personal needs of international students studying in the United States. With over 15 years of experience in educational consulting and placement, EduBoston has combined the strengths of both boarding and day schools into this personalized program that provides extraordinary learning and support for students preparing to study at the most prestigious colleges and universities in America.

EMC specifically caters to the needs of international students learning to live independently in their new academic and cultural environment. Providing students with a strong support network, EMC encourages academic progress and personal growth within a positive home atmosphere.
What services are included in the program?

EduBoston has designed EMC to accommodate the needs of individual students during their first year studying in the United States. In addition to school and housing placement, the program offers students the opportunity for personal growth and enrichment with the following services:

- Beautifully appointed, safe and secure family-style housing located within close proximity to the student’s school and managed by a live-in Resident Parent
- Gourmet cuisine cooked by an in-house Private Chef including 3 hot and hearty meals per day. Students also have unlimited access to snacks all day long including fresh fruits and vegetables.
- Laundry service twice each week
- Chauffeur service providing transportation to and from school as well as extracurricular activities and excursions
- Access to academic assistance including after school tutoring, college prep and weekend test prep courses such as TOEFL, SSAT, and SAT*
- Organized weekend activities. Activities may include golf, tennis, basketball, music lessons or art classes
- Gym membership
- Monthly progress report to parents including academic feedback from schools, tutors, ESL teachers, and the Resident Parent*

*As applicable
Additional fees may apply for these activities
What sets this program apart from a typical boarding school?

Expedited Admissions Process
EduBoston’s established relationships with reputable Partner Schools has made it possible to streamline school admissions into a quick and convenient process for both students and schools. Students will get their admissions results within weeks from the time they apply.

Personal Attention and Care
EduBoston strictly employs seasoned professionals to manage all student academic and social activities, including weekend events. Parents can rest assured knowing their child is receiving all the support they need in order for them to succeed in school and integrate into American society.

Guided Transition into American Culture
EduBoston staff understand the difficulties international children may have in adjusting to their new life in America. They are trained to identify and address specific needs of students during this transition period and know how to guide them in becoming more independent and personally responsible individuals.

Students participating in EMC also share a common experience with housemates who support each other throughout the transition period.
Who is this program suitable for?

Students preparing to attend elite American colleges or universities
EMC’s individualized support services best prepares students for the rigorous academic schedules they will encounter at the most prestigious American colleges and universities.

Through continuous academic support and one-on-one counseling, EMC equips high school students with an individualized plan of action through which they develop the skills and confidence necessary to achieve their academic and personal goals. Students in EMC have round-the-clock access to trained education professionals who teach important life skills on time management, study strategies, paper writing, test preparation and organization. Learning these skills better prepares students to succeed in the most elite academic programs in the U.S.

Students who require more personal care
Without the proper care, attention and support, students may have a more difficult time adjusting to American culture and academics. The personalized services provided by EMC are ideal for students who might benefit from a more gradual transition into the American school system and culture.

Students who need assistance with self-discipline and adult supervision
Our Resident Parents implement strict controls over students’ daily activities to ensure they are focused on their academic studies and learning the necessary skills to transition into a more independent lifestyle. Those who need a more structured environment benefit from this type of program where they can learn to become more independent and personally responsible all while under the supervision of a loving and experienced caregiver.
What will daily living/life be like?

Offering a unique alternative to the traditional boarding school dormitory, the EMC house provides students with a family-like atmosphere and structured environment to help them focus on their personal growth and academic studies. These intimate family-style homes are designed to offer students a lifestyle that mimics that of living in a typical American home. Each house features a common area where students can gather to relax and socialize, a kitchen, dining area, bathroom and individual bedrooms that may be assigned as single or double occupancy.

Students reside in a luxurious and spacious home with American Resident Parent and no more than 10 other students of the same gender and age. Resident Parents supervise and lovingly care for the students in the home and are available 24 hours a day to make sure all the needs of the students are being met. The Resident Parent communicates with students’ families on a regular basis and openly shares information on their child’s well-being, academic progress and success.

Students living in the EMC house also have access to an in-house Private Chef who crafts three catered meals a day for the house. The meal plan is designed to focus on meeting the nutritional needs of growing adolescents and encourage them to make healthy food choices. Special meal options will be provided for those with dietary concerns.
What type of activities will be available during free time?

Weekends are structured to provide students with the opportunity to participate in a wide variety of academic and social activities. Activities may include the following:

- Sports (ex. golf, tennis, basketball, badminton)
- Music lessons (ex. violin, piano, guitar, flute, etc.). Experienced musicians will have the opportunity to audition for the local orchestra.
- Art classes
- Outdoor activities (ex. hiking, biking, swimming, etc.)
- Cultural destinations (ex. museums, galleries, theaters, etc.)
- Day trips throughout New England (ex. Boston, the White Mountains, Berkshires, NYC)
- Volunteer work
- Academic counseling (ESL tutoring, homework help and college preparation)
- Test preparation TOEFL, SSAT, and SAT

Is transportation provided to class and/or other activities outside of the residence?

Yes. EMC students have access to a Chauffeur Service which will transport them to and from school as well as other academic and social activities they may participate in.
Your child’s best opportunity to succeed!

Moving thousands of miles away from home to study in America is a big step for any teenager to take. With an extensive support network and personalized services, the EMC program is the best opportunity your child has to prepare for independent living and academic success in the United States.

No other program offers this type of personalized service with a strong support network aimed at teaching students the necessary life skills to prepare for the responsibility of college academics within a safe and welcoming home environment. You can be assured choosing EMC is the best decision you can make for your son or daughter’s future success in America.
